A portrait of that eminent Candidate J[ame]s D[igge]s L[a] T[ouche], drawn by C. Lucas 1749

This is the first monograph devoted to Rembrandt's etched portraits of himself and his contemporaries between 1633 and 1665. Rembrandt etched less than two dozen formal portraits, yet this small body of work includes some of his most finely crafted and widely sought-after prints. Rembrandt depicted influential preachers of the Reformed and Mennonite faiths, as well as prominent citizens such as the tax administrator Jan Wtenbogaert, the wealthy connoisseur Jan Six, the physician Arnout Tholin, and the landscape painter Jan Asselijn. Most of these men participated in a circle of artists, poets, and patrons who thought of themselves as a Dutch Parnassus. For this community of art lovers, the celebration of individual character and accomplishment in products ranging from imposing portrait sculptures to witty occasional verses was a central preoccupation. This book brings together contextual evidence such as preparatory studies, inscribed copies, and literary responses of Rembrandt's etched portraits.

In civilization, a top curator offers an unprecedented look at contemporary photographs that track the visual threads of humankind's frenetic collective life across the globe. We hurtle together into the future at ever-increasing speed, or so it seems to the collective psyche, perpetually evolving, morphing, building, and demolishing, rethinking, reframing, and reshaping the world around and ahead of us. The people within it, an emerging planetary-wide civilization, is our grand global collective endeavor. Never before in human history have so many people been so interconnected and so interdependent. With close to 500 images, many previously unpublished, this landmark publication takes stock of the material and spiritual cultures that make up civilization ranging from the ordinary to the extraordinary from our great collective achievements to our ruinous collective failings civilization the way we live now explores the complexity of contemporary civilization through the rich nuanced language of photography featuring images by some 140 photographers from reiner riedler s families at leisure parks raimond wouda s high schools wang qingsong s work work work and cindy sherman s society portraits to lauren greenfield s displays of ostentatious wealth edward burtynsky s oil fields pablo lopez luz s views on a sprawling contemporary megapolis thomas struth s images of high technology xing danwen s electronic wastelands and taryn simon s contraband civilization draws together the threads of humankind s ever changing frenetic collective life across the globe visually epic civilization contains eight thematic chapters each featuring powerful imagery and accompanied by provocative essays quotes and concise statements by the artists themselves
