LRCW 6: Late Roman Coarse Wares, Cooking Wares and Amphorae in the Mediterranean: Archaeology and Archaeometry 2022-01-10 nel 1877 il tipografo editore dott. francesco vallardi di milano pubblicò questa monografia storico artistica contenente documenti inediti allora e realizzata con il concorso di parecchi cultori di storia patria e del municipio di lodi lo scopo del libro come sottolineavano al lettore nella premessa il dott. felice de angeli ed il prof. andrea timolati era quello di colmare una lacuna la mancanza di una monografia che compiutamente raccogliesse tutte le più importanti notizie geografiche storiche letterarie ed artistiche di questa nobilissima fra le terre italiane

Cantico di Giovanni Scarale per il "frate del Gargano", con un ricordo di Sconosciuto 1885 temples are the most prestigious buildings in the urban landscape of ancient Italy emerging within a network of centres of the then known Mediterranean world notwithstanding the fragmentary condition of the buildings remains these monuments and especially their richly decorated roofs are crucial sources of information on the constitution of political social and craft identities acting as agents in displaying the meaning of images the subject of this volume is thematic and includes material from the eastern Mediterranean including Greece and Turkey contributors discuss the network between patron elites and specialized craft communities that were responsible for the sophisticated terracotta decoration of temples in Italy between 600 and 100 BC focusing on the mobility of craft people and craft traditions and techniques asking how images iconographies practices and materials can be used to explain the organization of ancient production distribution and consumption special attention has been given to relations with the eastern Mediterranean Greece and Anatolia investigating craft communities workshop organizations and networks has never been thoroughly undertaken for this period and region nor for this exceptionally rich category of materials or for the craftspeople producing the architectural terracottas papers in this volume aim to improve our understanding of roof production and construction in this period to reveal relationships between main production centres and to study the possible influences of immigrant craftspeople

Nature and the Arts in Early Modern Naples 2017-07-31 this wide ranging theme takes Braudel's concept of the Mediterranean as its starting point Braudel's vision of an enclosed sea as a geographical opportunity for economic integration between nations with different religions languages and ethnicities and political bodies still functions as a model for studies on a wide range of contexts the goal of the 50th study week was to go beyond the study of individual systems in isolation and to combine instead different analysis of open and enclosed seas or coastal areas in order to understand the integration role played by maritime connections in Europe since in pre industrial civilizations water transport was easier than land transport the time has come to bring attention to the way these relationship networks operated both on a European level and with Asian and North African trade partners this volume starts from the great research traditions which have however rarely been integrated on a larger and continental scale and analyses them on either a regional or thematic basis immanuel wallerstein has developed braudel s concept by conceptualising its intercultural and transnational dimensions and its role in the system of labour he called it a world system not because it involves the whole world but because it is larger than any legally defined political unit and it is a world economy because the base link between the different parts of the system has an economic nature the various regional research aspects and traditions have been linked together in a coherent approach which aims at evaluating what geographical nautical technical economic legal social and cultural elements influenced the emergence of the various regional networks and how these worked the nature and role of seaports as nodal points of sea routes and of their hinterland through rivers canals and roads the commercial and personal ties between merchants and shipowners in various ports how regional networks connected with each other and how over time they ended up integrating into larger units how private networks initially between merchant and seafarer organizations ended up dealing with local authorities and after their growth with states and empires in order to protect their interests
