Youth Football 2019-08-01 we hear the reports and see the video all too often youth coaches and officials assaulted fights breaking out at youth sporting events and parents and coaches losing control over what should be a child s game it doesn t have to be that way what we don t see are the thousands of youth football coaches who do it the right way teaching the game and the ethos of the game to children who love to play coaching youth football can be one of the most exciting exhilarating and rewarding experiences it takes a tremendous amount of hard work and an ability to communicate with other coaches players and parents but there are few things to compare with watching young people compete and win or learn lessons that will help them for a lifetime teaching the game of football goes far beyond the white lines beyond the techniques of blocking and tackling along with learning the fundamentals of the game young people learn teamwork sportsmanship responsible leadership and the need to work hard and prepare to reach goals to avoid being one of those trapped in a nightmare a youth coach must master the ability to relate to both players and parents above all a coach must communicate it is important that parents trust the coach after all parents are submitting their child to a game that is by its very nature physically brutal parents need to trust that the coach will have the best interests of the team and their child in mind at all times when those interests collide parents need to know why a coach makes certain decisions and how that will affect their child along with communicating with adults youth football coaches must be experts in understanding and relating to children youth football players have very little concept of the actual fundamentals of the game they see a college or professional game on television and see long passes break away runs or big hits and the thousands of people who cheer while players celebrate this is far from the reality of the game coaches must be able to demonstrate and teach fundamentals big plays come out of the ability to be fundamentally sound and being fundamentally sound takes hour upon hour of watching listening and practicing in the nfl and increasingly in college success is defined by wins and losses the bottom line is paramount this isn't necessarily different at the youth level the bottom line is simply wider wins and losses are important and no one wants to play for a loser but if a youth coach is successful they create not only wins on the field they also help to create joy in the hearts of children and parents players who learn how to play and how to be leaders and most of all a successful youth coach gives players the building blocks to be successful in life about the expert john seagroves has taught and coached at the middle school level for over a decade in eastern north carolina he and his wife corrie live in rocky mount they have one daughter elizabeth who is an outstanding student and athlete in her own right he has coached football in four different school systems in that time his football teams have compiled a 784 winning percentage he has led football softball and basketball teams to county and conference titles in the process more importantly he is proud of the overwhelming success his players have had in the classroom many going on to study and earn college degrees at some of the most prestigious universities in the region mr seagroves would like to thank coach todd brewer of nash central high school for his contributions on offensive philosophy for youth football and on how to establish expectations in your program coach brewer and mr seagroves spent several years coaching together and much of the information in this book evolved from that partnership howexpert publishes quick how to guides on all topics from a to z by everyday experts How To Coach Youth Football 2013-01-15 the severity of injuries including concussions to kids playing youth tackle football can be as traumatic as to the big brutes playing college and nfl football a high school and youth tackle football coach and a parent of athletic sons and daughters who've had their share of injuries after his son suffered a concussion alan jackson became fully aware of the devastating injuries children can sustain on the field the more he researched long term effects the more worried he became about allowing kids play anything other than flag football before their bodies are strong enough to take full force impacts in his book alan comprehensively discusses tackle football at the youth level the coaches who manage the sport the upsides and pitfalls of today's equipment and what parents can do to help prevent injuries to their children he reached out to professionals in the industry coaches mike miller and matt wells receiver and tight end john madsen and connie jones certified athletic trainer to get their take on whether kids should be allowed to play before age 14 and the safety of equipment today going beyond just discussing parent and coach involvement in making sure equipment is up to date and is fitted well he discusses the history of helmets proper tackling techniques conditioning to prevent injuries the signs of a concussion and studies about correct protocols to allow a player back on the field alan challenges the overall safety of youth football including playing hurt versus injured just to win a game putting the responsibility on the coach's shoulders he discusses good coaching versus bad coaching and whether to allow a kid to play based on their fear factor realizing the increased awareness among the nfl and sports experts about the long term ramifications of repetitive concussions he discusses an interview with tom farrey titled study impact of youth head hits severe where lisa mchale the wife of former nfl player tom mchale shared how their life was negatively impacted by the game of football he also discusses how the responsibility of making sure their kids can enjoy the sport while being protected falls on parents shoulders every parent should ask if tackle football is safe for their children do they allow their children to play tackle football without knowing the potential risk of injuries do they understand the potential long term effects of suffering a concussion or do they accept the responsibility of sending them in to play without doing their due diligence should their kids only play tag football until age 14 do they understand the potential harm to their kids because of their body size are they too small or too weak to play do they even want to play alan presents both sides of the argument of to play or not to play tackle football especially before age 14 since their children's safety is paramount parents need to trust their instincts to guide them to a correct decision and leave their ego at the door
