Wood Southern Africa 1985 in this haunting tale of love and learning the existential chaos of a life ravaged by circumstance takes on a rhythm of its own one bound by loss and loneliness but also an intelligent awareness of self sometimes melancholy sometimes brutal occasionally funny and infuriating a journalist comrade lover caught up in the shade and shadow of politics and social injustice faces treachery and betrayal on every level set against the backdrop of a cityscape that taunts and tantalises this is where love fails and passion wanes where suffering has no meaning where an individual escapes death only to find himself confronted with choices wrought by remorse and retribution by conscience and character and yet with all trauma there is a distinct musicality to the lyrical unpacking that follows a string of small things

My career 1990 this book addresses two main questions namely how to prepare high quality teachers in the 21st century and how the east and the west can learn from each other it addresses the different challenges and dilemmas that eastern countries especially china and western countries are facing with regard to teacher education we explore the question by examining teacher education research practice and policy in different countries identifying both common problems and country specific challenges we then try to find valuable experiences theories and practice which can solve specific problems in the process of teacher education also addressing how local and global factors impact it in this regard our approach does not strictly separate pre service teacher education from teachers in service professional development adopting an integrative perspective further we believe the respective social and cultural contexts must also be taken into account lastly we call for teachers knowledge and individual character traits to be accounted for in the education of high quality teachers
